

A UltraDrill framework: one ROI-stress criterion from teacher selection to edge verification

The same localization-stress protocol is used before and after distillation, so deployment compression is checked against the error source that motivates the framework.

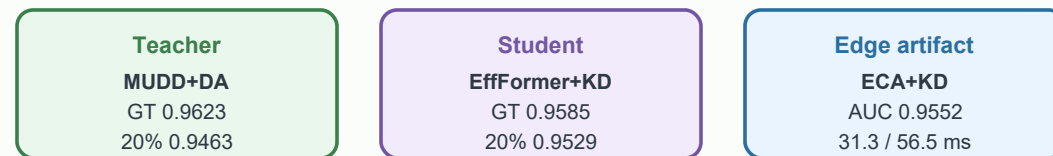

validation-fixed ROI-stress protocol reused across teacher and student

B Module 2 detail: teacher design space

C Decision evidence and claim boundary

Bounded claim: edge ROI classification, not universal zero-shot clinical deployment.